

Who We Are

Udder Health Systems has been providing milk quality services to the dairy industry since 1978. The company was founded by Dr. Allan Britten for the sole purpose of addressing the challenges facing dairy-men striving to produce high quality milk.

We are dairy industry experts specializing in the diagnosis and control of mastitis. Our trained professionals serve as consultants to dairymen, veterinarians, milk processors, and food manufacturers on the topic of milk quality.

We provide on farm personnel training, evaluate milking machine design and function, coordinate sanitation and therapy programs, trouble shoot acute clinical outbreaks, and evaluate dairy environments.

UHS has comprehensive, state of the art, milk quality laboratories in two states and three locations. Our labs are staffed with teams of veterinarians, microbiologists, food scientists and animal scientists dedicated to providing top quality service to improve dairy profitability.

Please feel free to contact our Milk Quality Specialists at our toll free number.
